BLAME PANIC FOR TOLL IN BOAT BLAST

By BIRGER FARUP
HADERSLEV, Denmark (AP)—The Danish Shipping Inspection Board said today the pleasure boat Damende was "loaded far beyond her capacity" when she exploded and burned, killing at least 53 persons.

As frogmen searched for more bodies in the waters of a park lake where the disaster struck Wednesday, the government agency in its first findings said the 45-foot excursion boat carried only 37 lifebelts.

The agency said the Damende's capacity limit recently was reduced to 35 from its original limit of 75. Officials believe at least 94 passengers were aboard.

A gasoline line used to connect the Damende's engine with a reserve tank was found in the wreckage. The agency said this was a makeshift hookup and that some gasoline may have seeped and started the fire.

There was no comment from the skipper-owner of the boat. He was in a hospital, critically burned.

Panic was blamed for increasing the death toll among the gay picnicers returning from an outing at this southern Denmark resort.

One rescuing rowboat was capsized by panicky passengers. Some of those aboard the excursion boat—officials believe there were 94 passengers—escaped by leaping overboard into the park lake at this south Denmark resort after an engine room explosion set the vessel ablaze Wednesday. Among those who escaped were mothers with babies in arms.

The skipper of the 45-foot wooden excursion boat Damende, injured and unable to stem the panic, beached his craft. It burned out within an hour.

A weeping young man said he and his wife jumped into the water when the ship caught fire. His (Turn to Page Twenty)

Kozlov Tour of the U. S. Is Running Out of Steam

CHICAGO (AP)—The current Soviet traveling salesman tour in the United States appeared today to be running out of steam and enthusiasm.

As he did elsewhere, First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov got along famously with some of the capitalists.

But the proletariat—the people the Communists invariably call the "toiling masses"—continued to greet his presence with a tremendous surge of apathy. This lack of public interest has marked Kozlov's entire cross-country barnstorming journey.

If a Soviet documentary film shows Moscow audiences crowds lining the route of Kozlov's motorcade into Chicago, it will be because the arrival coincided with the evening homeward bound rush hour.

The crowds waited to cross streets through thick traffic. Two Soviet newsmen, riding in an open convertible, trained their cameras on the street corners and tried, each by waving his free hand furiously, to persuade some in the crowd to wave back. This could provide at least a semblance of cheering masses for a documentary on the trip, to be shown back home in the U.S.S.R.

But the film chronicle will have one item of propaganda value. On the way to the Inland Steel Co. plant in East Chicago, Ind. Wednesday, the motorcade passed a tiny, squalid slum of a few tumbledown tenements. The newsmen trained their cameras hungrily on the slum and a few poorly dressed Negro children. They had few other leg opportunities on the other legs of their cross country tour.

Kozlov himself was yined and dined Wednesday night at the South Shore Country Club. Edward Loggins, vice president of United States Steel Corp., was the host and steel executives were among the guests. Kozlov, a metallurgist, had toured steel plants during the day and had spoken glowingly of trade, peace and friendship.

Kozlov's schedule today included a meeting with Mayor Richard J. Daley, a visit to mechanized farms for growing corn and a visit to a typical American farm home.

Suspects Arrested With Pants Down

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP)—Police raided a numbers operation Wednesday and caught five men, two of them with their pants down—literally.

They were in the basement of a private home counting the day's receipts. Because of the warm weather the two had taken off their pants and were in their undershorts.

Two Americans Victims of Blast From Terrorists

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A Communist terrorist slipped into an American military billet 20 miles north of Saigon Wednesday night during a movie and exploded a bomb, killing two U.S. military advisers, himself and three South Vietnamese.

Another American officer was wounded, and two others escaped injury.

Following the bomb attack, other members of the terrorist band opened fire from outside the billet with small arms and automatic weapons, the communique said.

Vietnamese army guards returned the fire, "forcing the terrorists to flee to the nearby river from which direction they had come," the communique reported.

The names of the American casualties were withheld until relatives were notified.

The attack occurred at the South Viet Nam army's training center at Binhhoa. The five U.S. officers were members of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) stationed in South Viet Nam to train President Ngo Dinh Diem's anti-Communist forces in the use of American weapons.

In Washington, the Army identified the American casualties as: Killed—Maj. Dale R. Buis, who listed the address of his wife, Mrs. Virginia Lee Buis, Imperial Beach, Calif.; and M. Sgt. Chester M. Omand, wife, Mrs. Mildred H. Omand, Copperas Cove, Tex.

Wounded—Capt. Howard B. Boston, wife, Mrs. Arlys Allene Boston, Blairburg, Iowa.

Hopes Dim For Averting Steel Strike

By NORMAN WALKER
NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes dimmed today for averting a nationwide steel strike at midnight Tuesday.

The Steelworkers union turned down a plea by President Eisenhower for an indefinite extension of the two-week strike truce already granted by the union.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said he could not believe Eisenhower intended that "we negotiate forever" and stressed the midnight July 14 walkout deadline will stand.

In Washington, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), told the Senate that Eisenhower's appeal for an indefinite extension of steel negotiations without deadline or strike date is "the grossest kind of intervention in collective bargaining."

Negotiations have picked up a bit. Technical experts have been called in for discussions on complicated problems such as incentive pay rates. But there is no word that the industry has made any money offer.

The nation's top dozen steel firms, led by U.S. Steel Corp., have taken a position that any higher wage costs would spur a new round of inflation. They have spurned union argument that industry profits can finance a new pay hike and other contract changes.

Steelworkers now average $3.10 hourly earnings.

House Committee Starts Work On Civil Rights Bill

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee starts work today on a civil rights bill, the fate of which will play a large part in determining how long Congress stays in session this year.

Action on civil rights is one of the key items in the Democratic leadership's legislative program, which critics say has been dragging despite the party's heavy majorities in Congress.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) predicted the committee would approve a bill not later than next week. If he succeeds in that goal despite strong Southern opposition within the committee, it would open the way to lengthy battles in both the House and the Senate.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas reportedly appeared directly to Celler to get a civil rights bill passed by the House as soon as possible.

Princess and Her Lady In Waiting Dress Alike

LONDON (AP)—Stylish Princess Margaret and her lady in waiting appeared in practically identical dresses Wednesday night, and at the opening of an exhibition of new fabric designs held at a fashion house.

"What a faux pas," said Iris Peake, the lady in waiting, "but it was a genuinely unfortunate coincidence."

Arriving in London after launching a ship in Belfast, Margaret slipped into a turquoise blue cocktail dress.

Downstairs waited Miss Peake in an almost identical dress. It was too late for either to change.

They entered the show side by side. The big room buzzed with whispers from the fashion experts, some of them clawing catly.

Ervin said he was returning to Las Vegas to give himself up. He was booked for investigation of the homicide.

Kids Loot Graveyard For Horror Session

They were released in custody of their parents pending juvenile action.

Little Damage Is Reported From Tropical Storm

By ROBERT MCHUGH
CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Tropical storm Cindy — a hurricane for only a few hours and hardly worth the designation — moved across the coast north of this old port city Wednesday night.

While the storm did little damage, it was responsible for one highway death. H. H. Higgins Jr., a Georgetown, S.C., lawyer, was killed when his car hit a tree that was blown across U.S. 17 about 20 miles north of here where Cindy came ashore.

Cindy, born in the Atlantic 200 miles offshore Tuesday, at one time Wednesday reached hurricane force of 75 miles an hour.

However, by the time she hit the coast at Bull Bay, at 9:45 p.m. she was losing her punch.

Gusts of 60 to 70 miles an hour were recorded. Then the storm began moving inland and breaking up. Tides quickly began receding after reaching a peak two and a half feet above normal at Georgetown.

Just 15 minutes after the storm hit the coast, the Charleston Weather Bureau advised the thousands of evacuees from nearby beach areas that they could return safely to their homes.

Slayer of Six-Year-Old Admits Las Vegas Crime

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"I thought she was my wife." A sobbing, slightly built restaurant worker gave that explanation to police today for his slaying of a 6-year-old neighbor girl.

But Robert Ervin insisted he did not sexually molest the youngster, Dolores Stafford.

Ervin, 20, signed a statement admitting he choked and stabbed the little girl when she wandered into his apartment as she had done many times before to see his wife.

Her nude body was found in the attic above the apartment Tuesday. Authorities said she had been raped.

Ervin's wife, Kathy, 18, left him last weekend after he tried to strangle her, then urged her to leave lest he harm her.

Officers were waiting for Ervin when his train pulled into Las Vegas from Los Angeles Wednesday. They discovered he was on the Union Pacific's City of Las Vegas when a ticket seller recognized his picture in a newspaper.

Ervin said he was returning to Las Vegas to give himself up. He was booked for investigation of the homicide.

Rail Disaster Causing 23 Deaths Being Probed

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—With the death toll now at 23, the Interstate Commerce Commission prepared today to hear testimony on what might have caused the rail disaster June 28 at Milledgeville.

The hearing seeks an explanation of what caused the derailment of 17 Seaboard Air Line freight cars on a trestle over the Ogeechee River near a crowded recreation area.

Included in the crackup were two tank cars loaded with butane. Seventeen persons died on the spot when the gas exploded. Six others died later.

The 23rd victim, Phillip D. Carpenter, 31, of Pooler, died Wednesday. His son, Charles, 14, died of burns the day after the disaster.

CLARK AND SCOTT SEEKING AN ADDITIONAL $2,000,000 TO SPEED WORK ON DAM

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D) and Hugh Scott (R) were prepared today to request an additional two million dollars to speed work on the proposed 113 million dollar Kinzua, Pa., flood control project.

"I don't know how far we'll get, but we're going to ask for it anyway," Scott told a newsman.

Scott's optimism appeared dimmed somewhat by the fact that the Senate Appropriations Committee has earmarked $1,400,000 for the project in the coming year.

However, he and Clark were gratified over getting that amount for the dam included in a bill providing $1,258,336,300 for construction and planning of water projects in the year that began July 1.

The House, in approving its version of the bill had placed restrictions on Kinzua construction to the extent that the $1,400,000 would be available only upon completion of a new survey of the Kinzua flood control plan and an alternate plan for the Conewango Valley, N.Y., and upon completion of litigation that sought to halt the dam's construction of the upper Allegheny River.

Senate Aid Bill Slashed 10 Per Cent

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a foreign aid bill with a $3,549,320,000 price tag. That's about 10 per cent less than President Eisenhower asked.

The authorization measure merely sets the ceiling for foreign aid spending. The actual amount to be spent will be determined in a later appropriation bill.

Efforts to make further slashes in the amount asked by Eisenhower failed Wednesday in the final day of debate. All of the 3334-million dollars in cuts had been voted Tuesday.

Final action came after Eisenhower indicated at a news conference he might call Congress back into a special session later this year if his request was sliced too deeply. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas joined Republicans in helping to fend off further reductions during the final debate.

The Senate measure allows $1,200,000,000 for military aid to Allies and 75½ millions in defense economic supports to help Allies maintain their troops. The rest is for various forms of economic aid.

Governor Long Reported To Be Failing Rapidly

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long, beset by grievous mental and physical ills, admittedly is failing in health. How badly and how rapidly was not quite clear.

Washington political sources heard Wednesday night that the 63-year-old governor was failing fast.

When several doctors hovered over Long and several relatives arrived, speculation arose that his condition was critical. Then Rep. Spencer Myrick emerged from the Mansion and explained a dentist was fitting a new set of false teeth for the governor, and the doctors were laughing and joking with Long.

The governor's condition, however, was viewed gravely.

Long was stricken with a mild heart failure July 1. Five days previous to that the governor had won freedom from a mental institution, after once having been diagnosed as insane.

He returned to the capital Monday.

Girl Scout Roundup News

Girl Scout Roundup News by Times-Mirror Correspondent Barbara Ellis.

Colorado Springs! We had actually arrived. This is the day we had eagerly awaited for six months!

On July 2nd at 11:30 a.m. hundreds of other scouts were also arriving in Colorado Springs. We were very surprised to find an army band at the station to greet the scouts. We were whisked off in buses to the Roundup site ten miles north of Colorado Springs.

Tents were going up everywhere. Many were decorated to represent the "home frontier." We were issued straw hats and ties when we registered. We look like genuine "westerners" in our camp uniforms!

What a time we had getting our area set up! We dragged equipment boxes and heavy duffel bags to our section in the hot Colorado sun. All of us were badly sunburned by evening. We pitched four sleeping tents, one kitchen tent, and constructed our table. The chicken dinner turned out quite well considering our disorganization.

Drifting Air Plane Rams Parked Ship At Warren Hangar

An unusual plane accident caused about $1,800 damages last evening at Warren Airport.

No one was hurt in the two-plane ground collision at 8 p.m. Planes involved were an Aerona CAC owned by Warren Aviation Club and a Cessna 170, owned by John Cassell of Indianapolis, Ind.

Keith Reynolds, 28, of 20 Dartmouth street, attempted to start the Aerona airship while it was sitting on a slight incline about 100 feet west of the hangar doors facing east. The brakes were reported off. His wife was seated in the plane.

As the propeller started, the Warren Aviation Club plane started forward at the pace of a person's walk. Reynolds was unable to get around the plane and into the front seat before it struck the Cessna.

Plane from Indiana was parked by the hangar entrance facing directly west in the path of the run away craft.

The local plane caused $1,500 damage to the parked ship, smashing the windshield, damaging the propeller and inflicting damage to the body. Plane owned by the Warren club sustained $300 damages.

Donors Needed for Visit Wednesday

Increasing need for blood supplies, including repeated calls for "live" donors at Warren General Hospital, has created a genuine problem for Blood Program workers of Warren County Red Cross Chapter.

Vacation schedules have also cut into the number of persons normally reporting as donors during a visit of the Regional Bloodmobile from Buffalo, but this same vacation period has created additional blood demands because of accident prevalence.

Chapter officials informed the Times-Mirror today the need for donors is "really urgent" and every person in the area who can possibly do so is asked to call headquarters to schedule a visit when the mobile equipment comes here next Wednesday, July 15.

The hours will be 10:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. and those who cannot schedule a visit in advance are asked to drop in any time during that period.

Cards have been mailed to former donors not available by telephoning and these should be returned to headquarters, 404 Market street, as soon as possible even if the recipient cannot be a donor at this time.

London Editor Suggests U.S. Join British Commonwealth

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—Lord Altrincham suggested today that the United States join the British Commonwealth.

"From the way Chicago greeted the Queen," he said in an interview, "I can't see that American republicanism is terribly strong."

His Lordship is the 35-year-old peer who raised royalty lovers' blood pressures two years ago by criticizing the monarchy. He said, among other things, that some of Queen Elizabeth's speeches sounded as if they were delivered by a priggish schoolgirl.

Altrincham says once the United States joins the Commonwealth, "We'd have to take British out of the name. Otherwise we'd raise people's blood pressure in the States."

He said any union of democratic, English-speaking countries is meaningless without "the biggest, best and richest of them all—the United States."

Altrincham said he's spoken to some Americans about joining the Commonwealth, "and they thought it a very good idea."

"For heaven's sake," he added, "the American Revolution was such a very long time ago."

The peer is editor of the 76-year-old National and English Review, a magazine of comment. He has run for Parliament twice and lost both times.

NBC Cameraman Takes Views of Pithole for Show

Titusville Herald: More than 1,000 feet of movie film was taken of Pithole scenes yesterday for the Dave Garraway "Today" show to be given Aug. 27.

William Heaton, the director and Joe Vadalo, NBC cameraman who has handled many foreign and domestic assignments for NBC, spent nearly seven hours on the project.

A narrative will be written to tie the different pictures together. After editing, about four minutes of Pithole will appear on the Centennial show on Oct. 10th birthday.

To give viewers a picture of the site of vanished city as a whole, the director and cameraman took aerial views in the afternoon. The plane was rented from the McKinney Flying Service.

Movies were taken of many sites, including the following: Methodist and Catholic churches, the valley where the big fire of April, 1866, caused damage in the high thousands, Fraher Street, Murphy's Theatre, Astor House, Holmden Street from the Danforth House to the Hubbs House, the Frazier Well, Berry No. 1 Well, a larger beer saloon and the Bonta House.

No people appeared in the pictures.

The film editors will have the job of relating present-day scenes to the old-time views. Mr. Heaton returned to New York with quite a sampling of the boom-time pictures.

Senate Appropriation Group Okays Fund for Reservoir

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee Wednesday refused to go along with a House directive that work be delayed on the proposed $118 million Kinzua, Pa., flood control dam.

The committee, in approving a bill carrying $1,258,836,300 for construction and planning of water projects for the fiscal year that began July 1, removed a House-imposed restriction that would have delayed use of funds for Kinzua until a new survey of the dam's feasibility could be made.

The House also had stipulated that a $1,400,000 appropriation for the project could not be used until a court test concerning construction of the dam was resolved.

The legal delay was overcome when the Supreme Court refused to review a lower court rejection of an appeal by the Seneca Indians for an injunction to halt construction of the project on the Upper Allegheny River.

The Indians opposed construction of the dam because they said it would inundate some 9,000 acres of their 30,000-acre reservation in Western New York.

Instead, the Senecas had proposed an alternative project which would have stored water from the Upper Allegheny in the Conewango Valley in New York.

The Senate committee report said five alternative proposals concerning use of the Conewango Valley already had been rejected by Army Engineers.

The sixth alternate plan presented by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, consulting engineer for the Senecas, also has been rejected by the engineers as not comparing "favorably with the authorized (Kinzua) plan."

The committee said it believes flood control along the Allegheny is urgently needed and that its members have confidence in the ability and integrity of the Army engineers to select the best plan.

When the Senate passed the bill recommended by the committee a joint Senate-House conference committee will have to iron out differences such as the House-directed restrictions on the Kinzua project.

The recommended Senate bill authorizes an appropriation of $1,400,000 for Kinzua in the next year. This amount actually is the money remaining for construction since work was halted due to the court wrangle.

A total of two million dollars has been appropriated in the past two years.

Inmate In New Mexico Prison Is Blood Bank Donor

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — "I figure it won't hurt me and it might help somebody on the outside."

That's the way a graying convict in the New Mexico State Prison summed up his feelings about donating a pint of blood to the Southwestern Blood Bank.

He was among dozens who gave 100 pints at the penitentiary Wednesday.

The idea of this "wholesale" reservoir of blood took shape just recently, and Warden Harold Cox says he knows of no other prison or any other institution or organization where such a large-scale operation has been set up on a regular basis.

During the first large scale donation last week, inmates gave 100 pints. This time 100 more men each gave a pint. Another 100 will donate next week.

The prison has more than 300 donors listed, and 100 others of the 1,200 inmates housed in the institution were turned away because of physical defects.

"More and more are volunteering each day," Cox said.

The warden said the donors would be allowed to give one pint every four months to the blood bank.

Allowed? Well, each donor gets 15 days knocked off his sentence each time he gives a pint of blood.

Flags of four countries have flown over Michigan — France, England, Spain and the United States.

When Dr. George Rothenberg of Great Neck and Howard Berger of Levittown romped off with the Goldman Pairs it marked the fifth time that a member of the class of 1922 of Columbia College had won this coveted title.

In one of the hands that contributed to their victory Dr. Rothenberg gained a top score by means of an attacking lead.

North and South employing the Stayman Convention over a two no-trump opening plus a couple of ace showing bids reached a good six spade contract.

Dr. Rothenberg sitting West opened the nine of hearts and South had to make a decision at trick one. Should he take an immediate heart finesse?

South decided against the finesse and went right up with dummy's ace. His next plays were to cash the ace and king of trumps and when the queen dropped everything looked delightful. He continued with the ace and king of diamonds, came to his own hand with the ace of clubs, ruffed his last diamond and led a small club toward his queen.

At this point the honeymoon ended with a bang. Mr. Berger ruffed in and led a heart to give Dr. Rothenberg the setting trick.

Business Activity In Pennsylvania Hits Peak in May

UNIVERSITY PARK — Both general business and industrial activity in Pennsylvania reached new peaks in May.

The Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State University reported that the Index of General Business reached 190 in May, establishing a new record. In April the index was 188 and a year ago, 178.

The Index of Industrial Activity stood at 122 in May, reaching the previous highs reported for October and November of 1956. Last month the index was 120 and a year ago, 106.

In the monthly publication, Pennsylvania Business Survey, the Bureau also noted that unemployment was down in May with 364,000, which was 7.9 per cent of the civilian labor force, unemployed at the middle of the month. In mid-April, unemployment was 8.9 per cent of a slightly larger work force.

The consumers' price index dipped to 123.5, the lowest point since June, 1958, and retail food costs were down to 119.3, the lowest since January, 1958.

The index of bank debits was only one point below the all-time high, factory employment was the best since January, 1958, and factory hours and payrolls turned in favorable records.

Industrial power sales and postal receipts hit high points for May. Building operations were best for the month since 1956 and carloadings in the Allegheny district were better than last year but were under other prior years.

Production of steel ingots and steel castings in May reached 3,002,005 net tons, a gain of 90 per cent over a year ago, as companies raced against the expiration date of their contracts with the United Steelworkers. Steel was not only going on to the stockpile, but was being consumed faster than generally expected so that third quarter prospects are bright provided there is no widespread strike.

The steel picture also included announcement of a price reduction by British steel.

The summary for the Warren area follows:

Warren postal receipts and telephones climbed to new peaks during the month of May. Industrial power sales reached their second highest point, while building operations were lower than last year but higher than 1957.

SOAP BOX DERBY

As will be noted in an article starting on page one of this issue, the Warren Jaycees, co-sponsors along with Dan's Chevrolet and the Times Publishing Company, are busily engaged completing plans for the Annual Soap Box Derby, to be staged July 25th, three weeks from Saturday.

It is gratifying to note that already 27 entries have been received, with special efforts being made to enroll all of last year's eligible boys before the last day for registration. As a matter of fact, the committee reminds that it is not too late to register. This may be done, those interested are reminded, either by calling at Dan's Chevrolet or contacting Derby Committee officials Scott Himes or Harry Spackman. Parents are asked to encourage boys to build racers or, better still, take already-built cars and qualify them for this year's event.

Chairman Elmer Mellander reminds that inspection of racers will start at six o'clock next Monday evening, at Beaty School, and boys having racers completed are invited to deliver them to the bus-loading platform at Beaty for inspection.

Derby Downs will be on McPherson street, with a special 'Oil Can Trophy Race' being staged as a preliminary. There will be the usual banquet at Beaty Auditorium following the Derby, for which members of the Jaycees' Auxiliary are already making preparations. At that time, needless to say, awards will be presented the lucky winners.

It's Soap Box Derby Time! The help of everyone is solicited to assure another successful event this year!

HER MAJESTY, THE QUEEN

This country was happy once again to offer warm welcome to Queen Elizabeth II on the occasion of her brief visit to Chicago. Never before has a ruling British monarch come to the nation's rich midlands.

As always, the queen moved among friendly Americans with grace and ease, exhibiting in every act and gesture her remarkable blend of dignity and warmth.

In this age when old symbols of authority are being cast aside in many parts of the globe, one hears complaints in some places that Elizabeth II must still be acknowledged as a symbol of spiritual unity.

It is not the business of Americans to tell members of the British Commonwealth how they should feel and act toward their queen.

Yet it seems fair to suggest that the whole free world would lose much if she did not stand before it as a kind of living ideal, an embodiment of man's aspirations for dignity, quality and moral uprightness.

We have few such symbols left to us. Queen Elizabeth II's warm humanity, so graciously borne, speaks to people everywhere of the best that is in them.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The present Supreme Court is not completely predictable on anything except its opposition to various forms of racial segregation.

Of the nine justices who handed down the historic and unanimous decision on public school segregation in 1954, only Justices Warren, Black, Douglas, Frankfurter and Clark are left.

Yet the four justices who joined them since then—Harlan, Brennan, Whitaker and Stewart—have voted in unanimity with them in case after case involving segregation.

Once outside that field, forecasts on opinion day get hazy. Yet, year after year, the opinions of this court are much more on what is called the liberal than on the conservative side.

Justices Warren, Black, Douglas and Brennan vote together pretty consistently—but not always—as a liberal bloc. But there are only four of them and there are nine justices.

Thus the views of these four men can never prevail unless they are joined by one or more of the other five. It often happens.

Those five—Frankfurter, Harlan, Clark, Whitaker, Stewart—can be considered more conservative than the other four, but in varying degrees. Whitaker and Stewart are perhaps the most conservative.

Yet, to make the picture more confusing, Clark, a frequent dissenter and often a fiery critic of the liberal, sometimes votes with them and does so consistently on segregation cases, even though he is a Southerner.

Frankfurter and Harlan seem the more flexible. Frankfurter has

Here and There

It will probably surprise many of the modern generation to learn that quoit pitching was one of the favorite pastimes among adult residents of Warren fifty years ago. We are reminded of this by a story that appears on page one of the Evening Mirror printed July 9, 1909, under the heading: "Quoit Pitchers Have Three Games Scheduled". Excerpts from the story will revive memories for a number of older readers. For instance: "Quoit playing in Buffalo is a great sport. There are fourteen new clubs in that city and one old one. Six on the South Side, four on North Main or in the Cold Spring district, two at Black Rock and two on the East Side. They are all prosperous, doing a big business in the sport line on Saturday afternoons, Sundays and evenings through the week. But what is said to be the leading club of all is the John L. Sullivan and it is not necessary to mention where it is. Two years ago that sport was a dead issue in Buffalo was concerned."

 The South Side Boys will have a tough proposition on their hands Saturday, July 17, at Jamestown, and it is none other than to dispose of the boys in the lumber city on that day. The team will be accompanied by a large delegation and all hands figure on making expenses before the game is over. The Warren Club is running a big excursion to Jamestown on that day. It is said to be for the purpose of obtaining a line on the Buffalo boys, whom they meet in August or two games. All hands are practicing day and night on the Sullivan courts in hopes of making the team for Jamestown. After watching the boys practice for several evenings it was decided that Robert E. Pitt would represent Buffalo in the special contest at Jamestown that day, for the championship of New York state, and a nice side bet of $300. The winner then meets the Warren champion in August under similar conditions. Robert Henderson, a true blue Scotchman and well known in Jamestown and Warren, will be the man of honor for Buffalo at that time. The names of the Jamestown and Buffalo lineups have been announced. The Warren team will be announced later.

The same issue of The Mirror carries a report of the adjourned meeting of the Warren Borough School Board when a deadlock over a new superintendent was decided, with the election of the late beloved R. T. Adams. In announcing that "Prof. R. T. Adams, of Lebanon, was elected superintendent at a salary of $2,000 a year" the article states further: "The directors have been deadlocked over the selection for some time, and it was not until after five ballots were taken that Mr. Adams was declared elected. Shortly after President Frantz called the meeting to order the board resolved itself into a committee of the whole for general discussion of the merits and demerits of the several applicants for the position. Those who applied were—Prof. James M. Berkeley, of Pittsburgh; Prof. Reed, of Scottsdale; Prof. A. J. Davis, of Clarion; Prof. Flasher, of Columbia; Prof. Pierce, of Ridgway, and Prof. R. T. Adams, of Lebanon. P. W. M. Pressel was at first a strong candidate and his chances for election were considered favorable, but after the board meeting of the previous week, he withdrew his name in a well-worded letter sent to each of the directors." The article states that efforts were made to have the election adjourned another week, after numerous speeches in behalf of various candidates, but a motion prevailed that the board should proceed with the election without further delay, after which the Teachers' Committee recommended the election of Mr. Adams. His contract called for him to take office the first of the month, but it was decided the first two weeks would be considered his vacation.

Income, Need Are Bases of New Veterans' Legislation

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The new veterans non-service-connected pension bill passed by the House of Representatives makes one change in existing law which all veterans' organizations have advocated. It puts widows and dependents of World War II and Korean War vets on the same basis as survivors of World War I vets.

The new bill also provides a "needs" test. Veterans' survivors would not be eligible for pensions if their income is over $1,800 a year.

Under present law, veterans' widows with no children get $50.40 a month pension if annual income is less than $1,400. Widows with one child get $63 a month plus $7.50 a month for each additional child, if annual income is less than $2,700.

UNDER THE NEW LAW, VETERANS' PENSIONS paid to widows and children would be put on a sliding scale. It would be based on the income and dependency status of the recipient. The greater the need, the bigger the pension.

Widows with no children and annual incomes of less than $600 would get $80 a month pension. With income between $600 and $1,200 the pension would be $45 a month. With income between $1,200 and $1,800 a year, the pension would be $25 a month. Over $1,800 a year income, no pension.

A widow with one child would get a pension of $75 a month if income is under $1,000 a year. The pension would be $60 a month if income is between $1,000 and $2,000. The pension would be $40 a month if income is between $2,000 and $3,000 a year. With income over $3,000 a year, no pension.

For each child after the first, this pension would be raised $15 a month—double the present law's provision.

In the case of a veteran who dies leaving no widow but one or more dependent children and an income for the support of these dependents is less than $1,800 a year each, a monthly pension of $35 would be paid for the first child, plus $15 a month for each additional child.

IN DETERMINING THE INCOME OF A WIDOW or dependent child to establish the basis on which pensions would be paid to veterans' survivors, all income would be counted under the new bill, except the following:

Payments of the armed services' six months' gratuity to widows; payments by Veterans Administration of indemnity and dependency compensation; donations from welfare organizations; payments under government life insurance policies; lump sum payments of social security death payments; amounts equal to payments by a vet's widow or his children for his debts, last illness and burial expenses; proceeds of fire insurance policies; and benefits equal to contributions paid to a public or private retirement, annuity, endowment or similar plan.

THE ADDED COSTS OF EQUALIZING World War II and Korean War widows and dependents with World War I widows and dependents, plus increasing the benefits for both, is expected to be $14 million dollars for 205,700 added cases for the first year's operations under the House-passed bill.

This will increase gradually to a peak of 796 million dollars for 1,466,000 added cases in 1955. Then it will decline to 733 million in the year 2000 and more later.

Radio and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—The men who live by television have figured out a way to beat a boring summer schedule: they spend their time reading the results of surveys telling them what you and I are looking at, and why.

A new flood of surveys seems to have been unleashed within the industry, and one or two are of more than passing interest to the living room viewer.

For instance, NBC is circulating a survey report which shows that most of us think that our television set is the most important thing in our homes, more important than the refrigerator, the stove, the washer-dryer and much, much more important than the beds.

This same survey disclosed, too, that 55.2 per cent of us viewers are completely or mostly satisfied with television. This compares with 49.9 per cent who are satisfied with 1959 automobiles; 40.6 per cent, with popular music, and 10.3 per cent, with the cost of living. Presumably the study was made before the onset of TV's hot weather doldrums.

Another survey suggests, that women have the upper hand in turning the channel selector dial.

This survey says women take the initiative in choosing half-hour dramas, network specials and— their favorite — hour-long dramas. They like adventure, mystery and crime shows almost as much as the man of the family; Westerns, a lot less than the menfolk or the children, and it's only one woman in 20 who insists on dialing in a sports spectacle.

CHILDHOOD ARTHRITIS

Approximately 1,200 children develop arthritis in this country annually. This is not a large number when compared with the frequency of the disease among adults. But many of these youngsters become crippled and are handicapped for years to come.

The cause of juvenile arthritis is not known but it often follows infection of the nose and throat. Many of these youngsters were in poor health to begin with and the added inflammation was just enough to push them into the arthritic state.

The condition develops abruptly in some with high fever, loss of appetite, and fatigue. The child looks and acts sick. In such instances, the point pains are preceded by a faint, salmon-pink, discrete rash over the entire body.

In others, the illness comes on more gradually and the parents are not aware of its nature or seriousness until the joints become inflamed and swollen. There may be fleeting pains in the fingers or elbows or stiffness of the knees or shoulders on arising.

As a rule, arthritis begins in one or more joints at the same time. A knee, hand, elbow, wrist, and ankle are favored. Pain and stiffness may be so severe the child wants to stay in bed. This type of rheumatoid arthritis is a generalized disease. Heart involvement may occur, leading to leakage and to changes in the electrocardiogram. The disorder may be so similar to rheumatic fever, the true diagnosis often is in doubt.

The usual treatment for arthritis is fairly effective in these youngsters. They rest in bed during the acute and more painful stage of the disease and receive the steroid hormones to hasten recovery.

Vitamins and nourishing foods increase resistance. These boys and girls may need months or years of follow-up care, especially to correct residual deformities of the arms and legs.

AFTER STOMACH REMOVAL

F. G. writes: Is it natural to have diarrhea after most of the stomach has been removed? I'm careful of my diet and take Kaopectate, but still am troubled.

Reply
This is part of the dumping syndrome that occurs in persons who have had most of the stomach removed. Food dumps into the intestine before it has had a chance to be digested by the remnant of the stomach. The syndrome can be controlled by not drinking fluids with meals, by eating dry foods, and by lying down after eating.

LESSER OF TWO EVILS

J. W. writes: Does the operation for the tic douloureux leave the face numb on the affected side?

Reply
Yes, but the numbness is preferred to the terrible facial pain of this form of neuritis. I assume you have tried conservative remedies and have had your dentist check your bite.

TELLTALE REDNESS

C. L. writes: Whenever I become upset my face and neck get blotchy. Is there any way to prevent this annoying outbreak?

Reply
Not unless you can learn to control your emotions. The body reacts in different ways to excitement and embarrassment. Some persons show no outward evidence of internal tension whereas others bluish or display blotches on the skin.

FATIGUE

W. D. writes: What can be done to regain strength after a bout of flu?

Reply
Get sufficient rest, eat a nourishing diet, and ask your physician for a tonic. Large doses of vitamin B complex or vitamin B12 are used occasionally to give the vitality a boost.

Health maintenance is a personal responsibility.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Metal price ups and downs—long considered a good business barometer—are being watched as a strike barometer.

Recent weakness in copper prices is taken to mean that consumers consider a strike in this industry unlikely this summer.

Firmness in steel scrap prices, on the other hand, has been interpreted as meaning that scrap is being stockpiled in expectation of a strike. The idea is that scrap would be needed quickly and in volume when furnaces were started up again after a strike.

Aluminum price firmness is attributed largely to increasing demand. But underneath is the possibility that upcoming wage negotiations might break down and a strike would mean shortages.

Rarely has the annual labor-management tug-of-war received more public attention than today. This is because of the unusual concentration on the fear of further inflation—that is, dollar erosion.

Headlines go to the approaching climax in the steel talks. But business has been keeping an eye all along on what is happening in copper.

While labor and management have been discussing a new copper contract—now overdue, as in steel—copper stocks have been piling up in the world market. Often the threat of strikes offsets this. But this time the price of copper has been falling.

A sharp break this week in the London market has been explained this way: Earlier this year fears of an American copper mine strike led consumers to build up stocks, and producers to increase output. When the contract deadline ran out without a break in wage negotiations, consumers started living off their stocks. And the supply of unsold new copper began to grow.

In this country price weakness has been spreading. In less than a month domestic custom smelters have cut prices five times. On Tuesday it dropped to 29½ cents a pound. The custom smelters buy scrap and ore to refine copper. The major producers of new copper still were maintaining their old price—31½ cents. But that price was the highest in the world, and U.S. consumers could import it for less, even with the transportation charges.

Copper producers think that increasing business activity will mean gains in copper demand so that the present hill may be just temporary. They stress that in addition to the natural consumer caution while awaiting outcome of the wage talks, there is the upcoming season of vacations by many copper fabricators. This always tends to slacken demand for the metal.

But in the copper futures market the thinking is different. Belief is widespread that consumers have built up stocks to take care of a strike threat, and that they now feel that they've overdone it.

And because demand for copper usually goes up and down with the demand for steel, a strike in the latter industry could cut off much of the activity in the entire metalworking field.

The Mature Parent

Why Can't Parents Today Deliver Firm Discipline?

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

George won't wear his new fannel pants to a birthday party lest they expose him to the ridicule of his friends. So we've taken him to the store to exchange them for pants that will meet their approval.

Now, before catching our bus, we're absorbing an ice cream soda to restore our sense of life's sweetness and smoothness.

"I want more chocolate syrup on my sundae," George says. "No, dear," we say. "It's rich enough with all those nuts. You don't want to upset your stomach."

"It won't upset my stomach," George retorts. And shoving his sundae away mutters, "I'm not going to finish that old ice cream without more syrup."

We do not say, "All right. I've just about finished my soda, too." Instead our "No" is already in process of reversal.

We are thinking, "Maybe the child is right. Maybe more syrup won't upset his stomach." And unable to stand the uncertainty involved with the possibility of being wrong about George's stomach, we say, "Could we have more syrup on this sundae, please?"

The American parent's inability to deliver firm discipline to children is his terror of moral uncertainty.

We are not aware of this fear. So all our youngsters have to do to get us to back down from a "No" is to challenge its rightness. We have all kinds of excuses to explain our uneasiness with discipline decisions.

In the end, they all boil down to one: safety is absolute rightness. The danger involved is the possibility that our "No" is wrong is the one thing we "security" worshipping Americans just can't stand.

We are going to have to learn to stand it.

Because the old safety provided by the belief in absolute rightness that enabled our grandparents to deliver firm discipline blew up at Hiroshima. What with cold wars and hydrogen warheads, it will be a long, long time before we can recover it. So we'd better relinquish the fiction of absolute rightness to leaders of the Soviet Union and stop wanting a thing that only exists in the imaginations of babies and fanatics.

If we do, we can recover our ability to deliver firm discipline on a new realistic basis. We can accept moral uncertainty as a fact with which man has always had to live—and bravely stand by our "No" in spite of its limited rightness.

Among Prize Winners At Titusville Show

The centennial of Colonel Drake's discovery of oil in 1859 was the theme for Titusville Garden's Club annual show Wednesday in Burgess Park Recreation Center. Judges some of whom have served in similar capacity for local shows, were Mrs. Richard Christie, Mrs. James Murphy, Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. A. H. Bastow and Mrs. H. A. Parsons, all of Erie.

Mrs. Edwin Africa, Warren, won second prize in Class 6, "Oil Centennial", her arrangement incorporating a tall silk hat, an old oil lamp, and carnations.

Mrs. Africa's name is no newcomer to the prize field, having been a winner in several earlier shows in Warren. Notable among past entries was an arrangement in an old copper sterilizer, which had been the property of her late father-in-law, Dr. E. S. Africa.

Another Warren resident, Mrs. Frank Perrin, won a third prize in Class 1 at Titusville yesterday. She used dyed materials for her charming arrangement. Mrs. Perrin is also well known among flower lovers for her work at the annual Woman's Club Flower Shows.

Others listed among winners were Mrs. J. W. A. Luce, Warren, in both bulbous and perennial groups; Miss Irene Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Courson, Tidoute; and Mrs. Andrew Paucek of Titusville, formerly of Warren.

"DOVE TOWN"

Las Polomas, a village near Elephant Butte Dam in southern New Mexico, derives its name from thousands of doves that lived in the cottonwoods in the vicinity.

Special Shampoo Locks in Waves

While you're out on the beach (left) or at the pool or in the back yard getting a beautiful tan, remember that your hair is exposed to the sun, too. It needs daily care if it is not to become dry and brittle. This girl (center) uses a shampoo that contains lanolin. It's also designed to encourage the hair to curl. Once it's shampooed in, it's left on the hair for five minutes before rinsing. This girl uses a touch of cologne in her final rinse water so that when she combs out her hair (right), it has a lovely scent as well as soft and natural wave. From time to time she will also brush a greaseless cream into her hair.

For every beauty-conscious gal, dreams of summer pleasure vie with nightmares of what to do about her hair.

Salt air and water, pool chemicals and overexposure to the sun often cause brittleness. And if you're the one out of every three American women who uses a tint or dye, you may find that discoloration has taken place, too.

Here are some tips from a leading authority on hair care that will help keep your hair healthy, shiny and manageable during the hot months.

It's preferable to cover your hair while in the sun or water,

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

but if you don't want to do it, daily brush strokes should be used faithfully to control brittleness. Brushing brings the "natural oils down to the hair tips and stimulates the scalp.

Daily massage with the fingertips will bring out the hair oils that give tone and luster to the hair.

Never let salt water or chlorinated water dry with the hair. They should be thoroughly washed out as soon as possible. Don't worry about frequent washings. They are not harmful to the hair.

Select a shampoo that is rich in lanolin to combat dryness. And for most efficient results, use a spray attachment for rinsing. Among the many shampoos containing lanolin, this year there's a new one available that is claimed by the makers to contain special proteins that hold hair in place, wave and curl your hair as you shampoo, and "lock" waves in by a magnetic process.

It's easy to use. Just shampoo it in, and leave the suds on the hair for five minutes before rinsing. And it is said to be safe for all types of hair.

Since your hair holds scent more lastingly than skin or clothing, why not spray your combs and brushes with your own personal scent after their regular cleanings. Or spray your veils and insides of hats.

You might try, too, using a cologne stick for smoothing out unruly hair ends. But remember not to overdo it. Summer perfume should be delicate.

Pamper your hair during the hot, sunny days, and it will be soft and lovely for summer evening dancing.

Local Artists Have Paintings Selected

Supplementing an earlier story concerning the second annual National Jury Show of the Chautauqua Art Association, which opened Monday evening and continues through Sunday, July 26, is the report that two paintings by Katherine Lott and Mrs. Lawrence Whitten, member of the Warren Art Group, were among the 73 accepted and hung in the gallery from an entry list of 350.

Miss Lott's watercolor landscape of the Hickory street bridge over the Allegheny River, from the retaining wall in the parking lot south of Pennsylvania avenue, was jewel-like in color and was purchased by a member of the jury from New York City.

Mrs. Whitten's picture, called "Forest Cathedral," was painted on vacation in the Allegheny National Forest. It is a watercolor landscape handled in a delicate manner with delicate greens.

This National Jury Show was started last season at Chautauqua Art Center and includes artists from the 50 United States and territories.

Prize-winning awards were well distributed, with prizes going to artists from Erie, Connecticut, Illinois, Cleveland, Tennessee, Indiana, Missouri, New York City and Buffalo. Judges were Sherman E. Lee, director of the Cleveland Museum of Art; J. B. Neumann, well known art dealer and lecturer; and William Thon, distinguished painter.

CLUB GATHERING
AKELEY—Friendly Neighbor Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Herbert Storer and Mrs. J. O. Erickson at Stockton, N.Y., with 22 present for a one o'clock picnic dinner.

PHOTOGRAPHY WON OVER FAMILY

She Brings the World of High Fashion Into Focus

BY AILEEN SNOODY, NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When a hobby becomes a business, you don't have time for hobbies any more.

This is one drawback an amateur camera bug discovers upon developing into a successful high fashion photographer. On the opposite side of the ledger are the advantages of traveling around the world and working with items any woman would love in her closet.

Reflecting on her present bird's-eye view of haute couture, Maria Martel ruefully admitted, "Like most little girls, I knew what I wanted to be when I grew up."

As a child she had a piano in her Paris bedroom as proof of her desire to be a pianist. A few years later she was just as intensely interested in painting.

But a whirlwind courtship by an American businessman and World War II opened the door for an unexpected career.

With her husband stationed with the military in Europe and their two children safe on her family's estate in Venezuela, Miss Martel searched for overseas duty. She decided to be a war correspondent.

To equip herself for this new role, she studied photography for three months in New York while waiting accreditation. But she never got to Europe. A revolution sent her flying to Caracas to rescue her children.

With the war ended, there she was in New York with a grounding in photography, a 35-mm. camera and some small developing pans.

"My friends laughed at my pictures because they were so small. I didn't have an enlarger," she explained. "They kept saying I should do something professionally with photography. At last I said, 'Why not?'"

So she showed her portfolio of pint-sized pictures to magazines and department stores until she got a photo assignment. With her first $200, she bought more equipment. Her studio then was a sheet-draped living room and her dark room, the basement.

She explained her present spacious quarters with, "My family was about to murder me so I moved."

Now Miss Martel whisks

around the world to capture chic models in more chic clothing for magazine ads. Her abandoned art training, she feels, gives her a length for line and color needed in capturing fashions.

"When photographing, she said, 'I am more interested in reflecting the texture and mood of a gown than the specific details that have gone into its design. Just as I select my clothes for their overall effect and how they make me feel, so I believe every woman cares just about what a fashion does for her.'"

Being a woman, and a creative personality, she doesn't agree with some "experts" who say a female photographer photographs a female model better.

"It's a matter of rapport and professional understanding between the two."

But sometimes she abandons a professional approach. A recent example involved a U.S. customs official who refused to allow her films from an Australian assignment to enter this country.

"I argued and cajoled for three days," she revealed. "Then I did the only thing a woman could do. I cried."

immunity from libel suits for remarks made in political broadcasts. This time Clark joined Warren, Black, Douglas and Brennan to make up the majority.

Just as some people thought the court showed signs of backing down under criticism for upsetting too many congressional and governmental programs and operations, the court showed its muscles unimpaired.

It threw out the Defense Department's industrial security program because neither Congress nor President Eisenhower had authorized it. Under this program those defense plant employees tagged as security risks could be fired without a chance to confront or cross-examine their accusers.

On this the vote was 8-1, with Clark the lone dissenter.

LARGEST DUNES

World's largest shifting sand dunes are the Sleeping Bear Dunes of the Leelanau Peninsula of western Michigan, whose sands move several inches each year and are slowly covering a huge stand of timber along Lake Michigan.

Why Send a Boy to Camp?

By Jeff Kiedel

Why should a boy go to Camp? Many parents know why they want their boy to attend an organized camp but if they were pressed to "put in into words" they would find it difficult. In a Staff Meeting recently of officials of the Warren YMCA Camp, which will be held at Camp Complanter July 19, through July 26, discussion brought out the following reasons for a boy's attending Camp.

A boy attends camp primarily for fun. His parents want him to have fun also, but this is not the underlying reason for sending to Camp for he can have fun at home and perhaps more at less expense. Parents want their son to have a rewarding experience that will enable him to GROW, and become better able to cope with life and the problems of our modern complex society.

What does a boy learn at Camp in addition to having a wonderful time? A boy's growth may be measured in several ways.

He may grow SOCIALLY... by learning to get along with others. Living in close contact with boys who are different than he can develop his tolerance for different ideas and for other ways of doing things. He will meet new boys, make new buddies and perhaps develop enduring friendships that he will value for years to come.

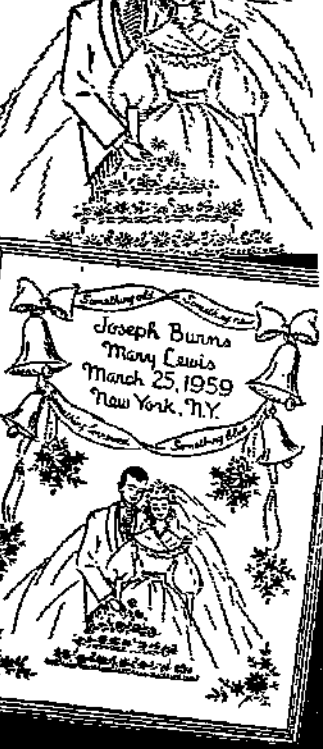

He may grow by the development of his SELF RELIANCE... He will learn to take care of himself; make his own bed, pick up after himself, be responsible for his own actions. With guidance he will learn that he can depend on himself and with such knowledge will come self-assurance and confidence that has a value which mere recreation can never even approximate.

In addition to the broadening of his horizons, the opening of new vistas and the awakening of new interests, he will acquire new skills. He will learn in "Nature's own classroom" without realizing he is learning.

Lastly... though one could

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — William Bendix, who has a face like a boulder and a heart like a marshmallow, bears a distinction unusual for a Hollywood star.

He's been bound in wedlock to the same girl for 31 years. She was his childhood sweetheart. She keeps the home fires burning, just as she did when Bill was a young grocery store manager. He does all the acting for the family.

Asked his formula for a successful marriage, Bendix looked surprised.

"I never thought of marriage as a formula," he said, staring thoughtfully down at his stockinged feet. He believes in going comfortably shoeless in a hotel room.

But after a little prodding, he came up with the following six rules:

"First, you have to be in love with your wife.

"Second, you have to want to come home to dinner because you're happy at home.

"Third, you and your wife have to have common interests. We do. I've known my wife all my life.

"Fourth, you have to be willing to talk out your problems together. A wife has a right to share your problems.

"Fifth, we made a pact when we got married. I was to make all the big decisions, and my wife was to make all the little decisions. So far it has worked out well. No big decisions have come up.

"Sixth, you have to be willing to give in occasionally — both of you.

"But you don't always have to do the same thing. My wife, for instance, likes to collect antiques. I don't. So she collects all she wants — and all I have to do is look at them."

Bill's clumb to stardom wasn't easy. He and his wife, Teresa, — they have two daughters — went through some lean years. Bendix was in six Broadway flops before he made a hit as the cop in William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life."

But by 1945 he was listed as one of the top 25 salaried men in the United States.

Bendix now is free-lancing. He recently finished playing in summer stock and next month will return to television.

Bill sums up his outlook on life this way:

"Work hard and learn your business. Never do a job you don't enjoy doing. That applies to a truck driver or a banker, as well as an actor.

"Work is so important in a man's life he has to enjoy it. If Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Turkeys Do All Right. Game Protector Dan McPeak, says Game Protector Fredrick Weigelt, Wayne County, "The banded, semi-wild turkeys I liberated in January joined flocks of older birds who must have taught their new buddies self-preservation. The released turkeys now 'spook' quickly at the slightest sound or movement."

Fire—Game Destroyer

"Quick thinking by men fighting a fire in Schuylkill County saved a game bird and her nest late in May," says Land Manager Ralph Shank. "A group of fire fighters led by Deputy Game Protector Ward Dissinger were battling a 600-acre fire on Broad Mountain when they discovered a ruffed grouse on her nest in the path of the blaze. To ensure safety for the bird and her eggs the men quickly raked a fire lane around the site and backfired to the lane. After the main fire was extinguished the men found the mother grouse still safe within the small island of green cover.

The area burned was one of the best grouse coverts in the country. Several burned-over nests were observed by the fire fighters."

Robin Turns Tables

While working on State Game Lands in northeast Pennsylvania last month William Fulmer, a Commission Land Manager, watched a Cooper's Hawk dive toward a robin feeding on the ground. Seeing the danger the robin flew away on frantic wings, a split second before the hawk would have struck. Too late to pull out of its dive the hawk struck the ground, bounced and fell dead of a broken neck.

Biologists Discuss Rabbits

Two Pennsylvania Game Commission biologists recently participated in a Cottontail Rabbit Technicians' Forum held at the Field Headquarters of Massachusetts Division of Fish and Game, at Westboro. For at least five years technicians working with rabbits have been trying to set up such a meeting. Since the mid-Atlantic and northeastern states have common rabbit management problems the forum offered an excellent opportunity for an exchange of ideas, the description of progress discussion of techniques and planning of cooperative efforts.

Though Pennsylvania's hunting season for rabbits is the shortest of any of the mid-Atlantic or northeastern states, cottontail populations have fluctuated almost simultaneously throughout the entire region. The last high was enjoyed in 1955 and a general low was experienced in 1958. These same fluctuations for or related to the population ups and downs.

Again, as in past years, the Pennsylvania Game Commission offers assistance to landowners and sportsmen interested in planning ways to establish improved living conditions toward the production of a larger cottontail population. Rocky or poorly drained sites, odd corners and other "off" areas found on most farms could, if developed, contribute markedly to rabbit production. The Commission has developed many such areas but it is impossible for the personnel of the agency to reach out to the myriads of potential sites found on farms scattered all over the state. There is ample opportunity for rabbit hunters and beaglers to improve their sport by producing desirable living conditions for the popular cottontail on privately-owned properties.

Reports of various studies re-emphasized the role of adequate food and cover. A vast difference in cottontail production and populations was demonstrated in a study of wildlife conservation practices in farming as opposed to the usual clean farming methods employed on many agricultural areas. The area "clean-farmed" in conventional manner supported only a fraction of the number of cottontails, compared to twenty years ago when brushy fence rows, overgrown swales, briar thickets and heavy cover in farm woodlots were common.

In the meeting in Massachusetts a review of studies of restocking results left little doubt there was questionable value in restocking to improve cottontail populations. There was general agreement among the technicians who met at Westboro that many sportsmen do not recognize the changes in habit which affect cottontail and other game populations. For the most part good rabbit habitat is short lived, and various methods of habitat manipulation must be employed if a continuing supply of cottontails is to be provided.

'Mouth-to-Mouth' Technique Ok'd By A. R. C. Heads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Red Cross said Sunday it has officially adopted the "mouth-to-mouth" technique of artificial respiration for both adults and children.

Teaching the method in its first aid and water safety courses will begin immediately. An instruction manual covering the method has been distributed to the 3,700 Red Cross chapters for use by volunteer class instructors.

The Red Cross gave these instructions on performing the "mouth-to-mouth" technique: If there is a foreign matter visible in the mouth, wipe it out quickly with the fingers or with a cloth wrapped around the fingers.

1. Tilt the head back so the chin is pointing upward. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position. These maneuvers should relieve obstruction of the airway by moving the base of the tongue away from the back of the throat.

2. Open your mouth wide and place it tightly over the victim's mouth. At the same time punch the victim's nostrils or close the victim's mouth and place your mouth over the nose. Blow into the victim's mouth or nose. Air may be blown through the victim's teeth, even though they be clenched.

The first blowing efforts should determine whether or not obstruction exists. 3. Remove your mouth, turn your head to the side, and listen for the return rush of air that indicates air exchange. Repeat the blowing effort.

For a child, take relatively shallow breaths appropriate to the child's size at the rate of about 20 a minute. For an adult, blow vigorously at the rate of about 12 breaths a minute.

Snake Handling Cult Reported to Be Active Again

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—The mountain preacher wrapped a four-foot rattlesnake around his arm, stroked its head and exhorted his audience: "Have faith, and ye can take up serpents."

The crowd of 100, clustered in and around a small frame house in remote Blue Hole, was participating in an apparent revival of a snakehandling cult—suppressed a year ago by the law and public opinion.

Shiloh Collins, 39-year-old jobless coal miner whose followers call him "reverend," hopped on one foot as he preached and exhorted, while his flock clapped and sang hymns.

Then, 31-year-old James Estep, a follower, grabbed up two rattlesnakes from a box. He wrapped them around his arm, then suddenly lifted two others from the box, with one curling about his neck.

The snakes writhed, rattled and stuck out their forked tongues but no one during the hour-long session Saturday night suffered any snake bite.

The meeting at Blue Hole, a tiny back-country settlement in the wooded hills of southeastern Kentucky, was the first to gain public notice since a raid last year shut off some of the snake-handlers' activity. But many of the cult's followers have been quietly active, meeting in private homes to the four-room house where this session took place.

Law officers, following a policy not to interfere unless citizens complain, made no effort to break up the gathering.

Collins and Estep demonstrated the four rattlesnakes were poisonous by pressing open their mouths with match sticks, showing their fangs.

Uruguay, tiniest South American republic, depends almost entirely upon its sheep and cattle products for export trade.

Oil Centennial Will Be Marked During Meeting

UNIVERSITY PARK — The oil industry Centennial will be marked here with the 21st Technical Conference on Petroleum Production August 25-26 on the Penn State campus. This announcement came from R. L. Slobod, head of the Department of Petroleum and Natural Gas Engineering at The Pennsylvania State University.

Co-sponsored by the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, the session will be keyed to newer methods of secondary recovery of oil.

Papers on theory and field experience of miscible phase displacement will occupy one day. A general paper giving theory and background will be presented by the Atlantic Refining Company.

A report on combustion drive (in-situ combustion) studies will be presented during the second day. Sinclair will give a general paper in this field.

The Technical Conference will be one of many events planned across the nation to commemorate Col Edwin J. Drake's original oil well. His well, the world's first deliberately drilled for oil, was successfully completed on August 27, 1859. His achievement marked the birth of the oil industry as we know it today.

"Since the no. billion-dollar petroleum industry all began with the Drake well in Titusville, Pennsylvania," commented Dr. Slobod, "it is appropriate that we schedule our conference in order to celebrate this event on our campus."

A week-long program of special events, many of national significance, has been planned in Titusville to celebrate the Centennial. The ceremonies will include the Second Century Conclave of Oil, with nationally-known industrial leaders looking forward to petroleum's role in the next hundred years; formal reception of greetings to Governor David L. Lawrence from governors of the oil-producing states, transmitted by pipeline from Texas to Titusville; keynote address by high government official and any others.

matter of FACT

The fruit of the pineapple plant (which was given its name because it is somewhat resembles a pine cone) is really a group of tightly packed small fruits, each of which resembles a small apple. The hard outer shell corresponds to the calyxes at the ends of the apples. The central cone is the stem on which each individual small fruit is borne. Pineapples vary in weight from four to 20 pounds.

END OF AILEY'SORE—Slums in the very shadow of the Capitol Building have long been a national disgrace. Now one famous Washington eyesore, Dixon Court, has been leveled to the ground. A redevelopment project is replacing the decrepit buildings, above, with modern apartments and green spaces.

Weeily Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Good old chuck roast is back again in the supermarket spotlight this week as housewives seek to balance the budget after the holiday.

More expensive roasts, such as standing ribs and top or bottom round, are featured in some stores and steak gets the oil in a few places.

Pork, however, is expected to be made much in evidence for the rest of the summer. Pork chops are marked down 4 to 10 cents a pound over a wide area and further drops are expected.

The bargains reflect a steep continuing climb in production. Federal figures estimate 1959 pig births at 104,000,000, highest in 15 years. This compares with 94,800,000 in last year and 88,000,000 in 1957. In addition, marketings this summer have been higher than expected, which means added competition for cold storage meat.

Hogs, hams and bellies—From which bacon is made—all declined at the wholesale level for the second straight week. It was the fourth consecutive drop for hogs.

Leg of Lamb also is the top bargain in some areas, reflecting scattered price cuts of 4 to 6 cents a pound, while fryers come in for attention again with cuts of 1 to 2 cents a pound.

Egg prices turned downward again after a brief runup, dropping 1 to 2 cents a dozen over a fairly wide area.

Best vegetable buys are snap beans, nearby lettuce, yellow or green squash, yellow or green onions, spinach and tomatoes. Good buys can be found, too, among cabbage, western lettuce, green peppers, cucumbers, cauliflower, indigo, escarole, broccoli, potatoes and topped carrots. Eggplant, peas and celery are moderately priced.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A series of disappointing films almost caused Harry Belafonte to give up his movie career, the singer-actor disclosed today.

The Negro star is a perfectionist. He is also a young man who thinks seriously about his race. For these reasons, he has been unhappy with his films thus far. He publicly lambasted "Island in the Sun" as a bad picture, much to the dismay of 20th Century-Fox. Now it's time for MGM to cringe. He has sharp words about his current release, "The World, the Flesh and the Devil."

"It's not a bad picture," he said, "but the tragedy is that it had been a great picture. Everyone who sees it agrees that the first part, showing the holocaust caused by an atomic explosion, had terrific quality."

Not as many critics pointed out, a movie fell apart. Belafonte leaves it was because the script tried to resolve the issue of a romance between himself and Inger Stevens.

"I said from the first that I didn't care whether I got the girl in the picture," he remarked. "The only thing I wanted was to have the issue resolved, and resolved honestly."

So great was his disappointment that he contemplated giving up films.

Instead, he went into production with his own company. He recently filmed "Odds Against Tomorrow" with himself, Robert Ryan, Shelley Winters, Gloria Grahame and Ed Begley. He feels that in the crime story he achieves what he had hoped for on the screen for the first time.

Belafonte admitted that it isn't easy to find good stories for Negro stars. But there should be a vast field of dramatic stories for Negroes, he added. His own ambition is to do a sophisticated comedy, and he has one by S.J. Perleman under consideration.

Also a possibility is "West Side Story" with himself and Marlon Brando as leaders of rival New York gangs. "It would be exciting to act with Marlon," said Belafonte. "But the question is whether we could convincingly play teen-agers."

STATE STORE EXAMS

A release from Harrisburg says: Examinations for liquor store clerks will be held August 15 to establish employment lists for the Liquor Control Board and provide temporary help during holiday seasons. Applications must be filed on or before July 22. Examinations will be limited to men who have reached 21 years of age prior to applying. Applicants must also be U. S. citizens, legal residents of Pennsylvania for at least one year prior to filing, and residents for six months of the county to which they seek appointment. Lists of eligibles resulting from the August 15 examination will be combined with lists prepared following the liquor store clerk test in 1958. Persons who were successful in the 1958 test are not required to retake the test to remain eligible. However, they may participate in the current examination to try to improve their score and rank on the combined lists.

Ike Cheered and Scolded For His Use of the Veto

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans cheered and Democrats grumbled today at President Eisenhower's evident determination to keep using the veto to hold down government spending.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that if Eisenhower continues to veto such measures as the housing bill "his record will be our greatest asset in 1960."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Assistant Democratic Leader, said in a separate interview that "the President has the real vote to sustain his vetoes, while we have only the theoretical vote to override them."

It requires two-thirds of those voting in both houses to enact bills into law over the President's rejection. Despite their overwhelming Senate and House majorities—they have almost two-thirds of the total membership—Democrats have never been able to hold their lines enough to override.

Because of this Mansfield conceded that the division of opinion among Democrats has made it necessary for his party to trim legislative programs to a point near Eisenhower's specifications in order to get any bills enacted into law.

Resignation of Democrat State Chairman Hinted

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) is expected to resign within two weeks as chairman of the Democratic State Committee, according to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

The newspaper said Wednesday it learned of Barr's impending resignation following a meeting of party advisers and state-wide party candidates at Harrisburg Wednesday night.

The Post-Gazette said Barr, the Democratic candidate for mayor of Pittsburgh, told the group that his campaign for mayor and his state legislative duties force him to step down as state chairman.

The paper listed John S. Rice, a one-time gubernatorial candidate from Gettysburg; William J. Nealon, Lackawanna County Democratic chairman; Maurice Splain, former state chairman from Pittsburgh; and Victor Moore of Philadelphia as possible successors to Barr.

Buffalo Police Find Cache of Marijuana

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Narcotics Chief John Stanton of the Buffalo Police Department said Wednesday the arrest of six persons in Buffalo had led police to a cache of $25,000 worth of marijuana in Medina, N. Y.

He said he believed a drug ring selling to residents of migrant farm labor camps in western New York had been broken.

Stanton said the narcotic weed was found wrapped in a bedsheet and a pillow case in an apartment in Medina occupied by Candido C. Perez, 29, and Luis Martinez-Almiz, 30. State and Medina police took part in the search.

The two men were arrested in an automobile here Tuesday night. They were charged with possession of narcotics and Perez also was charged with illegal possession of a loaded automatic pistol.

Police were watching for the automobile as a result of information picked up with the arrest of four Buffalo residents earlier in the day. Stanton said the four, one of them a woman, had two packets of marijuana in their automobile.

Today's Headlines . . . Yesterday's . . . A Week Ago or a month ago! There are too many of these . . . "THREE DROWN IN LAKE" "SIX LOSE LIVES BY DROWNING" "CHILD DROWNS IN CREEK" "MAN DROWNS IN RIVER" . . . you've read the papers, and you've also read about fruitless efforts to save the victims of water accidents. First Aid measures are wonderful things to know . . . BUT . . . too often not sufficient to save a life. However, today in our remarkable world of progress, it's possible to have on hand (should you vacation near water) a portable supply of oxygen plus disposable mask. What it boils down to is this . . . you can carry a twenty minute supply of oxygen right with you (mask included) . . . and that's sufficient to last until the nearest doctor, ambulance, fire or police department arrives in case of emergency. Naturally, oxygen can be utilized in more ways than water safety. But, you must admit that here is a remarkable innovation designed to safeguard you and yours.

Naturally . . . it's The Warren Drug Store that features this outstanding device . . . a twenty minute supply of oxygen (portable) and disposable mask! And should you think you can't afford such protection (what does a life cost?) . . . the price is just $6.95. Just ask for LIF-O-GEN at the Warren Drug Store, and don't wish you'd purchased yours too late!

It's so pleasant to hear from those who read this column . . . that's the only way we're sure that the effort is worth while. And it turns out that the popular appeal is to folks who have growing children and universal problems because of same . . . (this we refer to as poetic license!) One mother mentions that her suddenly grown up son just never gets home on time. That poses a problem . . . if you buy him a watch, he loses it, breaks it or trades same for something utterly useless. If you wait dinner . . . nobody enjoys it (what there is of it!) . . . and if you don't, cold food isn't very appealing. Nevertheless, statistics show that you can thrive and live well on sufficient peanut butter and jelly sandwiches . . . i.e. . . if you don't get home in time for meals!

We read a national column the other day and were advised that men actually pay little attention to changing styles. That is a ridiculous statement as far as Warren is concerned. It would seem that in these parts, the men pay admirable attention to the manner in which the ladies dress . . . and an equal amount of concentration as far as their own wardrobes are concerned. Guess they're just educated here in Warren county . . . educated to know what the latest style is and educated to select the best in menswear.

The center of learning for the well-dressed men in this particular area has long been The Style Shop (and small wonder!) You men shop there for "the best in menswear" . . . your wives shop there because they know they can't buy wrong! There are plenty of things you need . . . SO . . . what are you waiting for?

As to the neighborhood sleep-outs, we've finally reached a decision . . . it might be better if WE sleep out and let all the small fry sleep inside! . . . No . . . guess that wouldn't work so well either . . . noise carries from any direction . . . and we'd rather be kept awake in our own comfortable habitat than in a vacant lot and sleeping bag.

Recent callers of Mrs. Violet Rogers, High street, have been Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Devore, Sugar Grove, and Lou Rowley, Houston, Texas, who came to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rowley of Lakeland, Fla., held in First Lutheran church parlors in Warren.

P. U. C. Checking On Manufacturers Request for Hike

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission is checking on wholesale gas rate in reases proposed before the Federal Power Commission by Manufacturer Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh.

The commission announced Wednesday that it was intervening in the case. The increases— affecting 21 Pennsylvania utilities — would total an estimated $298,230 annually.

Manufacturers asked the FPC on July 27 to raise rates for gas it furnishes to other distributing companies. The company requested the increase to cover boosts proposed by two of its suppliers, Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. and Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp.

The former is seeking a $1,570,600 annual increase; the latter, an additional $145,500 yearly.

Hutchinson Is Raking Over Reds Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Burly Fred Hutchinson takes over tonight in one of baseball's managerial hot seats—manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

Cincinnati General Manager Gabe Paul announced Wednesday that Mayo Smith had been fired after directing the team through only 80 league games and that Hutchinson had been named to replace him.

Hutchinson, former pilot of the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals, has been managing Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, a Cincinnati farm club affiliate.

In coming here, Hutchinson will be the 10th manager of the Reds since 1947. He will be the fourth in less than a year although one of them—Jimmy Dykes—had only a "interim" tenure last year after Birdie Tebbetts quit.

"Hutch" will be taking over a club mired in seventh place, 10½ games out of first. It is a club so admittedly weak in pitching that Smith singled out that phase Wednesday night as a major reason for the team's plight.

Paul said Hutchinson would be signed to a contract running through the 1960 season when he arrives here today from Seattle. The terms were not disclosed.

The Reds open a series with San Francisco tonight.

Paul's terse announcement of the managerial change said Smith had been his "personal" choice when he was hired.

He added that Smith had been offered a job in the Cincinnati organization but Smith asserted he had not yet decided whether to accept it although he declared "I want to stay in baseball."

Little Reliever Of Pittsburgh Is Ready To "Mow"

By DAVE LEHERR

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Now that the All-Star game is over, the players can turn their thoughts back to the regular season play and the World Series.

And that is just what Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates is doing.

After being knocked out of the box in Tuesday's classic, the little right-handed reliever is all set to start mowing down National League batters again.

"I'm sure my bad appearance in the All-Star game won't have any adverse effects on my season pitching," said Face. "Everybody has one or two bad days. You can't throw perfect ball all the time."

At present, Face is working on the longest winning streak a reliever has ever had. He has won 17 straight games since his last loss on May 30, 1950. During that time he appeared in 46 games, worked nearly 117 innings and saved 27 games.

"Right now the big thing is to get down to winning the pennant," said Face. "The Pirates have as good a chance as any other team in the league and I think we can do it."

He added that he would like another chance against the American League batters, "especially in a World Series."

And the Pirates will know the little reliever is in the bull pen tonight when they open the second half of the season against the Chicago Cubs.

Bob Friend will shoot for his fifth victory against 10 losses for the Pirates. His opponent will be Bob Anderson (5-7). The Pirates will be seeking their fourth straight victory.

BUFFALO RACEWAY

Tar Boy, top dash-winning performer at Buffalo Raceway in 1950, will enter the $30,000 Pacing Series on Saturday night. The 4-year-old Zornow-horse returned this week from Northville, Mich., where he finished second in the H.T.A. Pace, formerly known as the Transamerica.

Tomorrow night free-for-all trotters will resume their series competition.

Tonight's feature, a $1,700 event scheduled as the eighth race, has attracted a full field of 8 Class A pacers headed postward by Royal Deluxe. A 6-time winner this year, Royal Deluxe was driven to a new mark of 2:05-1/5 last week at Hamburg. Morning line favorite is Oslo, with 7 wins this year.

Three $1,200 Class B events will support tonight's feature. In B class, trotters will race in fifth, pacers in sixth and seventh.

Seven of 9 events will be for pacers. Post time for first race is 8:30; daily double windows close at 8:15.

Clips Stroke To Win Hoosier Tournament

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., clipped a stroke from men's par to win the $4,000 Hoosier Celebrities golf tournament by four strokes Wednesday.

Marlene posted 34-36-70 at the Fort Wayne Country Club to go with her par 71 in the first round. Her 141 total was worth $700.

Patty Berg of West Chicago, Ill., who matched Marlene's 71 Tuesday, slipped to 74 and tied Bonnie Randolph of Columbus, Ohio, for second place, at 145.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I went out there to knock him out in the first round," said smiling Jose Becerra after punching the world bantamweight crown from the handsome head of France's Alphonse Halimi.

It actually took the little buzz saw from Guadalajara, Mexico, eight savage rounds to cut down Halimi, who hadn't been off his feet in 28 professional fights.

A crowd of 15,110 sat and shouted in air conditioned comfort in Los Angeles' spanking new sports arena as the fighters set a pace that couldn't continue 15 rounds.

Somebody had to give—and it was the champion from French North Africa who hit the deck twice in the eighth round and was counted out.

Halimi began peppering away at the pressing challenger with a long jab. But he soon switched and bombed away at Becerra in savage infighting.

Although Becerra said later he was jarred only once—in the seventh, Halimi shook the 23-year-old Mexican repeatedly with explosive right and left hooks to the head.

Halimi made his last stand in Becerra's corner. He tried gamely to punch away the swarming challenger, but Becerra was on him like a swarm of wasps.

A right smash to the jaw started Halimi tumbling. Becerra dug in a vicious left hook to the ribs as Halimi slipped between the ropes and landed flat on his back.

Becerra, who has knocked out 21 of his 36 fight opponents, said he's ready and willing to meet Halimi in a rematch.

Major Leaguers Discussing Plans To Aid Minors

CHICAGO (AP)—A one million dollar financial aid program to bolster struggling minor leagues held top attention today of major league baseball officials.

Other main issues before the majors' annual summer meetings are the question of the starting date of the 1960 race and controversy over a rule permitting inter-league player trades.

Commissioner Ford Frick said the question of a third major league is not on the agenda and that he does not believe it will be discussed.

However, the third major league proposal could be brought before the meeting with the unanimous consent of the club owners.

The executive committees of the majors and minors huddled Wednesday with Frick in an effort to work out a formula for shoring up the sagging minor leagues.

Charles Segar, assistant to Frick, said recommendations will be submitted Friday at a joint meeting of American and National league club officials.

Chance To Quit Cellar Is Blown Away By Red Sox

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox blew a chance to quit the American League cellar Wednesday night, letting a 5-3 lead slip away and taking an 11-5 wallop from the Yankees, who tied for third place, in the only baseball game scheduled in the majors.

That game, making up an April rainout, was at New York. The next five are at Boston as the result of a weird schedule and a rainout.

The Yankees, now sharing third with Baltimore, 4½ games shy of first, did some blowing themselves before rolling back with a 15-hit attack. Yogi Berra, who homered, and Bill Skowron, who tripled, doubled and singled, drove in five runs between them. Hector Lopez also drove in three runs, two on a bad-hop single that struck Boston second baseman Pete Runnels in the face.

A five-run fourth inning, triggered by Skowron's two-run triple and Berra's two-run, ninth homer, gave it to the Yankees and reliever Bobby Shantz (3-2), who has won three straight.

While the Yankees make their latest bid to get a move-on in the AL against the Red Sox, first place Cleveland gets back to business after the All-Star break with the opener of a two-game series at Chicago tonight. The Indians have a two-game lead over the second place White Sox.

Baltimore has five games in four days at Washington, starting with a two-night doubleheader tonight.

In the National League, Milwaukee takes a .003 percentage-point lead into the opener of a three-game series with the third place Los Angeles Dodgers, who trial by a half-game.

Second place San Francisco puts the heat on Freddie Hutchinson, new manager of the Reds, right away by opening a three-game series at Cincinnati tonight.

Tunney Called the Turn On Built-Up Patterson

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—When Floyd Patterson won the heavy-weight championship at the age of 21, Gene Tunney said:

"The tragedy is that the boy has won the title so young. He will not be given the opportunity to fully mature. With the title at stake every time he gets into a ring, he will not fight often enough to learn how to beat a worth-while challenger."

When Ingemar Johansson swabbed the Yankee Stadium canvas with Patterson, Tunney said:

"I never considered Patterson anything more than a built-up novice."

TUNNEY AND A LOT of other boxing men called the turn. After ancient Archie Moore so inexplicably laid down and played seriously dead without having taken a real punch at Patterson, Nov. 30, 1950, the most overrated and overprotected fighter ever to wear the heavyweight crown tackled no one of consequence until Johansson's roaring right had exposed him as the greatest hoax since the Cardiff Giant.

It took Patterson 11 rounds to dispose of Hurricane Tommy Jackson, who couldn't hurt Tom Thumb with an ax and was practically a hospital case.

Pete Rademacher, a muscle-bound amateur, had Patterson on the deck as did Roy Harris, a nonpuncher who was stopped in the 12th only because of facial cuts. Johansson said his sister could lick Brian London, and while the Swede turned out to be right, the Blackpool Beatnik lasted 11 rounds.

PATTERSON HAD BEEN coddled like an only child by a strange character named Gus D'Amato. His Svengali screened Floyd's opponents as thoroughly as the Federal Bureau of Investigation. But there was a hole in the screen this time and the wrong guy got through.

As bad as not matching him with fighters against whom he could improve, Patterson was taught nothing to augment his naturally fast pair of hands.

The punch that finished Floyd shot directly between gloves held beside his chin in what had become known as the peek-a-boo style. The champion was caught peeking.

D'AMATO, WHO WITH Patterson's ascendancy became the self-appointed general manager of the world, masterminded a lad with a bright future into oblivion.

It remains to be seen whether Johansson is a good all-round performer, but he can punch—at least hard enough to wreck Eddie Machen and Patterson, whose chin has always been suspect by numerous close followers of the peak busting business. Johansson once more proved how simple prize fighting really is for a young man with a wallop. You don't need all the preliminary folderol. All you have to do is hit the other bloke at the right time with the right punch, the earlier the better.

Jordan Will Show Punching Ability In Title Defense

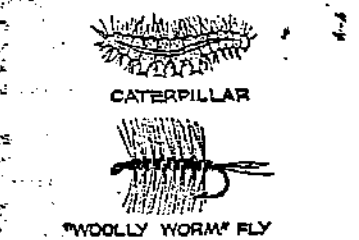

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lightweight champion Don Jordan intends to show his detractors Friday night that he can punch. Jordan, who won the title by a decision over Virgil Aldins last December and successfully defended it against Aldins, again by decision, in April, will take on fast, young Denny Moyer of Portland in a 15-round title bout.

"Most people don't think he can punch. But he can punch real good," said Don Neseth, one of Jordan's managers. "Now in Moyer he is facing a real tough fighter. Moyer's strong. He's not going out the first time he gets hit. But we think Don will stop him somewhere between 10 and 15 rounds."

Jordan, working on a string of 10 straight victories, planned one final light workout today in preparation for the title bout, which will be on NBC television, starting at 9 p.m. EST.

Moyer, 19, has 20 straight victories since turning professional.

Allegheny Airlines List New June Record

Allegheny Airlines report that passenger boardings on the line during June eclipsed all previous records.

For the first time in the company's ten-year history of passenger operations over 50,000 passengers were boarded in a single month. Allegheny's June tally of 56,934 passengers surpassed its previous monthly record, set in August, 1958, by 16 per cent and represented a healthy 24 per cent boost over the 45,920 passengers carried in June of last year.

In establishing the new system record, 12 of the 28 airports served by Allegheny compiled all-time record traffic totals. These included Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Detroit, Erie, Pa., Clearfield - Phillipsburg - State College - Bellefonte, Pa., Hazleton, Pa., Harrisburg, Pa., Jamestown, N.Y., Lancaster, Pa., Newark - New York, Parisburg - Marietta, W. Va., and Wilkes-Barre - Scranton, Pa.

The airline's "load factor," or percentage of available seats occupied, exceeded 55 per cent for the month, also erasing a previous mark.

Air cargo boardings, the company said, continued to set new monthly records. 614,802 pounds of Air Freight and Air Express were carried on Allegheny flights during June, a 34-per cent increase over the same month in 1958.

Based on July's traffic through the holiday travel period and the stimulating effect of the airline's new jet-prop services on its Washington and Pittsburgh to Atlantic City and Wildwood - Cape May routes, Allegheny expects to top the 60,000 passenger mark during July, a spokesman said.

An avenue of flags, representing every state in the Union and every country where girl scouting is organized, was lowered tonight at an impressive ceremony.
As we walked back to the Warren encampment tonight, talking and laughing with our new friends, we glanced toward the horizon and saw beautiful Pike's Peak rising above us. As the sun sinks behind the Rockies, we are very thrilled to be a part of such a wonderful event — the Girl Scout Senior Roundup!

for college scholarships, a trip to the Rose Bowl Tournament, and many other wonderful prizes.
Inspections Chairman Elmer Mellander announces that inspections of racers will begin at 6:00 p. m. on Monday, July 13, and will continue Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at the same time for the two weeks preceding the derby. Inspections will be held at Beatty School, and boys may secure more information about racers by reporting there at that time. Boys who have racers ready for completion may bring them to the bus-loading platform at Beatty for inspections, and they will be ready for the big day.
Derby Day dawns bright and early for all racers and boys, and a big parade is planned to Derby Downs, situated on upper Conewango Avenue at the McPherson Street site. Preceding the big races will be a special "Oil Can Trophy Race" between Emory Mahan, one of Warren's best-known and fastest drivers, and L. Leroy Schneck, one of Warren's best-known sports car enthusiasts but a novice in this type of race. This event will be one lap to a finish, and even now Warren gamblers are betting on the outcome.
After the Derby, the annual banquet will be held in Beatty School with Hank Powell and the Jaycee Auxiliary taking care of arrangements. Boys, their parents, and guests will be invited to attend, and the general public is welcome. Awards will be presented, and this banquet promises to be one of the highlights of the year for the boys.
The committee is ready; 27 boys have entered; more are needed. Plan to be there on Derby Day for the big race. If you are a boy, get that racer ready and plan to participate.

The measure passed the Senate Wednesday night by a vote of 65-26 with the support of 39 Democrats and 26 Republicans. Eighteen Democrats and eight Republican senators voted against final passage.

Old Fashioned Barroom Brawl's Cost Trio $144

After a few beers you become a new man then you're in trouble.
That was the explanation of an Oil City youth after he, his father and a brother were picked up with warrants by Deputy Sheriff Donnell Allen Wednesday afternoon.
The trio, George Chapin, 48, his two sons, Donald, 22, and W. James, 24, left a string of bloody, battered barroom customers from Youngsville to Garland when they were returned home from work Friday.
All three are employed as construction workers on the new highway on Rte. 62. After working in the "hot sun and dust" all day, pop and the boys stopped in Warren and had a few beers.
Then they visited a Youngsville tavern, roughed up a couple customers there and stopped in Pittsfield. A Pittsfield customer got a taste of the three's dislike for him. Stopping in Garland, the Chapin three started a free-for-all in a tavern.
Anything went—chairs, fists, beer bottles and ash trays. Result of the battles: Three other men injured with cut heads, possibly broken ribs and a broken nose plus numerous bumps and bruises.
Arrested before Justice of Peace J. Thompson in Youngsville yesterday afternoon, the three pleaded guilty and each paid a $10 fine plus $15.50 costs, made restitution for doctor bills and damages. The fun spree cost them a total of $144.50.
One of the boys told Allen that after working in the hot sun and dust all day, you're "tired, so you feel like a new man. Then you have a couple more for the new man. Then you get into trouble."
They were quick to agree that it wasn't "as much fun now (Wednesday) as it was Friday."

Skull found some weeks ago above Hemlock, is undoubtedly a white woman, over fifty years of age.
This information was given Sheriff Larry E. Linder on an official visit to Washington, D. C., to have the human skull examined by experts at the Smithsonian Institution.
Dr. T. D. Stewart of the Institute who made the examination, told the Warren County sheriff that it was his opinion from analysis that the skull probably had not been in Allegheny River more than a year.
There is also a chance that the woman wore upper plate of false teeth at one time, the examination showed.
When found, the skull was resting on the beach of a small island above Hemlock. It was not buried in the sand.
A search is now being conducted for missing persons listed in recent months in territory north of Warren.

Little Progress Being Made By Tax Negotiators

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Legislative Conference Committee on the Budget went into a second round of secret discussions today with no progress to report on its initial talks.
Chairman W. Stuart Helm of the Republican Policy Committee only would say that talks Wednesday covered the fiscal impasse generally. He expressed hope, however, that the top-level, bipartisan conference would come up with some agreement that could be presented to the respective party caucuses next Monday for final approval.
Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said there would be no public utterances during the discussions.
Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said he preferred to keep the discussions private until his caucus has a chance to consider them.
Today's meeting was scheduled to start at 10 a. m. and continue tonight.
The nine committee members met for 3½ hours Wednesday.
Leaders of the Republican-controlled Senate were absent, but the house GOP delegation met with them prior to the day's talks.

Independence Day Being Celebrated By Argentinians

By EDWARD T. BUTLER
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina celebrated independence day today a tree but troubled nation.
The independence was won from Spain in 1816, and four years ago from Dictator Juan D. Peron and his police state.
But the dictator left behind a legacy of a nearly bankrupt economy, galloping inflation, labor unions militantly trying to preserve the favored position Peronism gave them and a restive group of military officers.
"Things may be difficult now," an Argentine will tell you, "but we have freedom."
There is evidence of it in the streets of Buenos Aires.
President Arturo Frondizi's government is attacked and defended. Conflicting opinions burst forth from newspapers which Peron had muzzled or silenced.

Hopes

McDonald said all labor negotiations must have a terminal point, and the one agreed upon by the industry and union is July 14.
R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said the companies would be happy to have an indefinite contract extension as asked by Eisenhower. Cooper said such an arrangement, which could be cancelled on 10-day notice by either side, would "preclude the development of a second crises deadline" next week.

REQUEST FOR U. N.
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The bulk of an estate estimated at $100,000 has been left the United Nations by a 41-year-old spinster.
Miss Beulah Edge's will was filed for probate Wednesday. It named the U. N. as beneficiary "in the fervent hope that this relatively small contribution may be of some effect in bringing about universal peace on earth and good will among men."

Numerous Penn'a Water Projects Approved in Bill

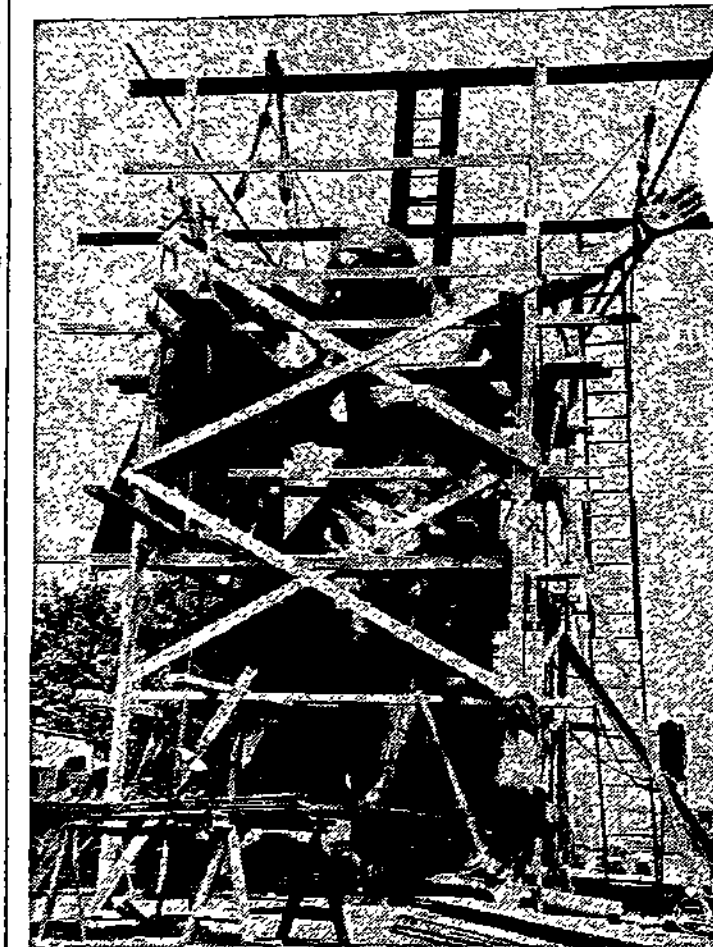

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a bill providing $1,253,836,200 for construction and planning of water projects in the fiscal year which started July 1.
The Senate committee, in its action Wednesday, ignored the recommendation of President Eisenhower that no new projects be started this year. The House, which did likewise, passed a bill calling for $1,177,177,600. The President had budgeted $1,176,677,000.
The appropriations by projects as approved by the Senate committee (House-voted amounts are shown in parentheses if different) include:
Pennsylvania: Construction—Allegheny $300,000; Bear Creek Reservoir $3,400,000; Bethlehem $300,000; Bradford $2,400,000; Brookville $500,000; Dam 3, Monongahela River $725,000; Dyberry Reservoir $380,000; Kettle Creek Reservoir $1,900,000; Prompton Reservoir $1,120,000; Shenango River Reservoir $500,000; Stillwater Reservoir $1,500,000; Allegheny River Reservoir, N.Y. and Pa., planning—Curwensville reservoir $200,000; Maxwell locks and dam $95,000; Ridgway $25,000; St. Marys $38,000; Tyrone $85,000; Washington, Charters Creek, $78,000; Turtle Creek $25,000 (none).

Fluoride Added to Greenville Water

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The Greenville Municipal Water Authority today began placing fluoride in this Mercer County community's water supply. No public authorization was necessary.
Fluoride has been recognized by many medical and dental units as a tooth protecting chemical. Many dentists claim fluoride reduces the amount of tooth decay.

IMPRISONED—Like the bars of a cell, scaffolding adds drama to a towering figure of the crucified Christ in Oslo, Norway. The religious work, 26 feet high, will be shipped to the Detroit, Mich., suburb of Indian River to be mounted on 200-foot cross.

HOW PA. SENATORS VOTED
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, voted with the majority Wednesday to pass the $3,543,320,000 foreign aid authorization bill. The Senate vote was 65-26.

KIWANIS LECTURE
A lecture-demonstration was presented Wednesday by Barney Byron, of the Pittsburgh office of the Bell Telephone Company, sponsored by the entertainment committee of Warren Kiwanis Club, with Knox Harper, chairman.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Corry Journal: An attractive, brown-haired native daughter of Chile will arrive in Miami on August 26 by chartered airliner on the first leg of her trip to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dodd of Columbus. She is Rosa Larrondo de Santiago de Chile, 16 years old, who is to be the second foreign exchange student to study in Corry Area High School. Rosa will be enrolled as a senior here for the 1959-60 school year. She finished her final year at the Liceo de Ninas in Santiago in January and received the degree of bachelor through the Chilean University. In the letter each candidate must write for the foreign exchange program, (run by the American Field Service), the South American girl indicates that she is particularly interested in scientific subjects including mathematics, physics and chemistry. While she does not know at this point what she will choose as a career following graduation from CAHS, Rosa believes it will be something involving those three subjects.

KANE PROCRUSTINATES

Kane Republican: Kane Borough Council again deferred action leading to construction of a sewage disposal plant at the regular meeting Monday night. A motion that council start action on the long delayed construction plans, prepared nearly 10 years ago, failed to receive a second and was lost. Council approved requesting action on the part of the Spring Water Company to provide additional water supplies to fire hydrants in the borough. Low pressure in many of the hydrants is blamed for failure to provide proper protection to residential as well as industrial areas in the community. A protest to the Public Utility Commission is expected to be made.

COW SIDESWIPES HORSE

A racing horse Tuesday sideswiped a cow being led by Jack Young, RD 3 Saegertown, and landed Jack in the emergency room at Meadville City Hospital for an examination. A hospital spokesman said Jack was leading the cow to the barn when it was hit by the horse being ridden by Jack's brother. The spokesman said Jack had the wind knocked out of him and was in a state of confusion for a brief period but recovered fully in the emergency room and was released to return home.

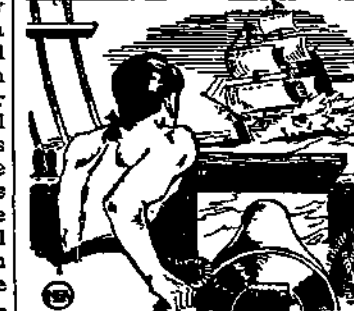

Blame

wife had managed to grab a life belt. En route to shore, he said, his wife gave the life belt to a screaming mother who was trying to keep herself and her baby afloat. Then his wife disappeared.
Fourteen of the survivors were hospitalized with burns. Some, including Capt. Hans Ristoffe, were in critical condition.
Survivors said Capt. Ristoffe tried vainly to calm the passengers and reach the lifebelts. While flames shot out of the engine room the panicky crowd beat him back, and he returned to the wheel.
Some foreign tourists were among the passengers. But there was no indication that any Americans were among the passengers.
Police said there may have been more than 90 persons aboard. They appealed to all survivors who had not reported in to do so.
It was Denmark's second maritime disaster within six months and the second disastrous fire in Scandinavia in three weeks.
In January the Danish passenger-cargo liner Hans Hedtoft hit an iceberg south of Greenland and vanished without a trace. Ninety-five persons perished.

JAMESTOWN BUILDING

Building in the Jamestown area during the last six months has fallen nearly $400,000 behind figures for the same period a year ago, James A. Hedberg, city building inspector, said today. Through June he issued 285 permits calling for construction costing an estimated $946,071. However, during that period in 1958 he granted 304 permits for about $1,373,457 in construction.

matter of FACT

With the exception of the Battle of Valcour Island on Lake Champlain, almost all other naval engagements of the Revolution were between single vessels. Among the ships fighting for the Colonists were many privateers, ships outfitted by private citizens instead of by the government. The Colonists' ships sailed everywhere, dodging the huge British fleets, capturing over 600 enemy merchant vessels.

YOU ARE SEEING DOUBLE—This is the way it looks when you pass a "double-bottom," two trailers hitched to a single tractor. In use in Western states for some time, the double units are being tried out on the New York Thruway, the first time they have been allowed on any of the East's toll roads. Specially equipped tractors hauling two trailers double payloads and cut expenses. Thruway authorities report few difficulties with the huge units and only scattered complaints from motorists.

TOMORROW'S OCEAN LINER?—A giant helicopter, 300 feet long, powered by nuclear energy, takes flight from the drawing board in artist's conception above. It's more than a flight of fancy, however. Preliminary studies for such a craft have just been completed for the Air Force by Bell Helicopter Corp., though there are no plans at present to build it. The projected behemoth would weigh half a million pounds—10 times more than any 'copter in existence—and be able to carry troops, passengers or cargo on its many decks at over 200 miles per hour. Atom power could keep it aloft indefinitely, giving it virtually unlimited range.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT—This architect's sketch shows how a notorious slum area in the nation's capital, Dixon Court, is being transformed into what is called one of the most modern urban areas in the country. Apartments, town houses and parks are appearing where once stood crowded tenements. The dome of the Capitol is visible in the background. The reconstruction project is well underway and will be completed in 1960.
